City Votes To Shutdown Pipeline Project

By E. SCOTT WOOD
Of The News Staff

The Upland City Council at the urging of some residents and the City Manager voted last week to shut down a San Gabriel Valley Municipal Water District pipeline project if the contractor does not comply with the conditions of the building contract.

The controversial pipeline project moving slowly down 16th

St. has drawn fire from residents of the area and the city staff for damage done to private and public property.

Among the charges brought against the project are that the contractor, Ernest Pestana Inc., has interrupted water service, routed trucks through residential areas and damaged property without making restitution.

The city council threatened to close the water pipeline project down using police force if necessary, if the contractor does not comply with the conditions of the contract and pay the city $19,000 for damage caused by the construction along 16th St.

City Manager Elwin "Pinky" Alder told the city council that the contractor has damaged 400 feet of the city's water line and curbing while putting in a San Gabriel Valley Municipal Water District water main near Campus Ave.

Residents of the area told the city council that the construction had damaged their property and had caused them unnecessary inconvenience. The routing of trucks along 16th St., they said, was a safety hazard.

Jack Aberero, representing the engineering consulting firm overseeing the project, told the city councilmen that the contractor is expected to finish Upland's section of the water pipeline within the next three weeks.

Aberero said that the contractor has been instructed to have the city's water line reinstalled by Dec. 28. If the water line is not back in by that time, he said, the city would be asked to have its own contractor do it and the city would be given a lien on the project.

The Upland City Council instructed the city attorney to draft a letter to the San Gabriel Valley Water District informing the district that it will be responsible for all damages that have resulted from the pipeline project.

The council also approved a motion by councilman Hal Bailin to authorize any actions by the city attorney or city manager to close down the construction, if the contractor does not live up to the conditions in the contract. Those actions, Bailin said, could include police force.

The city will direct a letter to Ernest Pestana, Inc. and will allow a three-day response period before the city takes action to shut down the project.

In other action, a shopping arcade in downtown Upland was given approval by the Upland City Council.

The council granted a conditional use permit to Dr. Joseph A. Powers for the construction of a shopping arcade and small restaurant at 250 N. Second Ave.

Plans for the shopping arcade call for shops running perpendicular to Second Ave. and extending to a parking lot at the rear of the arcade.

Presently the site is a vacant lot, formerly the location of a five and dime store.

The shopping arcade was approved Nov. 20 by the planning commission and was recommended by the Upland Chamber of Commerce.

Upland Man Skips Bail

Ismael Guaracha, 33, of Upland described by local police as a major figure in one of Southern California's biggest heroin rings has skipped bail and disappeared, according to court authorities in San Bernardino.

The Upland resident didn't appear in San Bernardino Superior Court last week where he was slated to be sentenced for possessing heroin.

Guaracha and two other men were indicted last year on multiple counts of conspiracy to sell heroin. But after plea bargaining and court hearings, Guaracha finally pleaded guilty to the possession charge.

Guaracha was free on $40,000 bail after a series of hearings in which the original multiple narcotics charges were dropped to the single possession charge and bail dropped from $250,000 to $40,000.

Upland Man Missing In Indonesia

A 59-year old Upland man is missing and believed dead after a helicopter crash in Indonesia.

Roy Thomas Carter, chief construction engineer with Union Oil Co., was one of nine persons aboard the helicopter which apparently experienced an engine malfunction and crashed into the South Barito River.

Company officials confirmed that four of the people aboard, including Carter, are missing and presumed dead. A company spokesman said the crash occurred in East Kalimantan, in the vicinity of Balikpapan, Indonesia. The helicopter was hauling equipment into the jungle at the time of the crash.

Carter, a native of Bonanza Ariz., was an Upland resident for 10 years.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Clara Brown, Montclair, Mrs. Ida D. Cole, Fort Jones and Mrs. Barbara Jean Brendel, Montclair; two sons, Roy Leon Carter, Anaheim and Thomas Edward Carter, Upland; and 12 grandchildren.

Fire Causes $8,500 Damage To Upland Home

A fire causing $8,500 damage to a four bedroom home was brought under control by Upland firemen last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dinkfeld, who reside at 1366 N. Third ave., came home from Christmas shopping to find Upland firemen on the roof and inside their home extinguishing an attic fire that did an estimated $8,500 damage to the four bedroom home.

Upland Fire Department Capt. John Lombardo said that the roof above two bedrooms, the living room, and part of the kitchen was destroyed by the fire.

The contents of the home were not touched by the fire, Lombardo reported, since the blaze was confined to the attic area of the home.

Upland firemen had the fire out within several minutes after arriving. However, Lombardo said, much of the attic and roof had been destroyed by the time the fire department reached the scene.

Lombardo speculated that the fire could have been smoldering in the shingles of the roof for an hour before it was noticed.

The fire department said that Dinkfeld had been removing paint from the outside of his house with a torch. A spark from the torch apparently started the shingles smoldering.

New Foothill National Bank Planned For Upland In March

Upland will be getting a new bank, but not in the four-story building proposed by Marie and Alex Tobin.

Harold T. Lacey, president of the Foothill National Bank currently based in Glendora, announced that a temporary branch office will open its doors in March of 1974 in a shopping center on Foothill Blvd. near the proposed site of a controversial four story office and professional building recently defeated by a City Council action.

A storm of protests from residents of Golden Rains Ave.

caused the City Council to deny the Tobins a conditional use permit to construct a four-story building at the corner of Foothill Blvd. and Mulberry Ave.

The Foothill National Bank was to occupy half of the ground floor of the proposed professional office building.

The Tobins can still build a three-story building on the site without applying for a conditional use permit. Herbert Kaiser, architect for the Tobins indicated that he was willing to rework plans for the building to meet city code standards.

POLICE INFORMATION PROGRAM

Vandalism Becoming Part Of School Curriculum

The Upland Police Department is combating vandalism and bicycle safety violations in the classroom. According to Upland Police Captain Thomas Smith, the department is winding up an informal bicycle safety and anti-vandalism campaign in all of Upland's nine elementary schools and both junior high schools.

The program, which has been conducted annually for the past 12 years varies from year to year and this year is centered on the increasing problem of vandalism and bicycle safety.

Each week different officers of the police department visit the schools in the area and discuss the results of vandalism in the grove areas and un-occupied houses with students. "We're not coming in to tell them what they should and should not do," Smith said. "It's an informal discussion where most of the kids ask questions about bike safety and vandalism and through the discussion we can get our point across."

Recently at Valencia Elementary School, officer Bill Dawson went over basic safety rules of bike riding with the members of Frank Migalolo 6th grade class. The kids did a lot of the talking. "They're sharp," Smith said. "It seems each year the kids get sharper and sharper."

The informal attitude of the police officers seems to work well with the students of the area. "The kids themselves come up with good reasons, not to vandalize the groves," Smith said. "We talked about not turning over the smudge pots because the leaking oil kills the trees, and they added that the waste of oil will also hurt the grove owner due to the energy crisis."

As an indicator to the success of the bicycle safety campaign

Smith noted that the City of Upland has received the American Automobile Association's National Pedestrian Safety Award no less than eight times since 1957. "We can attribute that achievement to the bike safety programs and rodeos we've had throughout the years," Smith said.

Another continuing Police relations program conducted in Upland's schools is the "Getting to Know You" program.

The "Getting to Know You" program is a product of the efforts of Richard M. Riley, Principal of Valencia Elementary School. Several years ago when Riley was serving as Principal of the Cabrillo Elementary School he began inviting uniformed patrolmen to his school in an effort to improve the relationship between the young students and the police.

The program was an immediate success. Standing before the youngsters, the officer first explains the details of his uniform, badge, gun, handcuffs and other equipment. He then gives a general description of his job and tells about his family. The session is then opened to questions and answers from the students.

According to Capt. Smith the program has been a great success and now when an officer walks on campus instead of hearing "Who are you hear for?" and "What happened?" Smith says he is often greeted by name from the students realizing that the police officer is just visiting the campus.

According to Riley, "Getting to Know You" is also closely related to crime prevention, for if we can convince a child in his formative years that he must respect and obey law and order, we are engaged in crime prevention.

GYMNASTICS -- Members of the beginners class in gymnastics practice routines at the Magnolia Recreation Center. The gymnastics course offered by the Upland Recreation Department, has, according to Director Fred Taunton, "Grown by leaps and bounds," no pun intended. Gymnastics will again be offered by the recreation department in the winter class offerings. For further information, call 982-1352, ext. 52.

FIGHTING VANDALISM -- Upland police officer Bill Dawson conducts his fight against vandalism in the classroom. As part of the education program designed by the Upland Police Department to inform youngsters about bicycle safety and vandalism, Dawson conducts an informal discussion period with 6th grade students at Valencia Elementary School.

Veysey Announces Candidacy For 35th Congressional District

Veysey announces candidacy for new 35th Congressional District.

Rep. Victor V. Veysey (R) of Riverside, today announced his candidacy for reelection to Congress in the 1974 general election from the newly formed 35th Congressional District. The new area includes parts of western San Bernardino County and parts of northeastern Los Angeles County.

Included are the communities of Upland, Montclair, Cucamonga, Pomona, Claremont, Covina, West Covina, San Dimas, Charter Oak, La Verne, Walnut, Ontario, Chino and Wrightwood.

Veysey's decision to run in the area was prompted by the recent Supreme Court reapportionment which divided the existing 43rd Congressional District into three pieces, and allocated each third to an adjacent district.

Veysey said his decision was prompted in part by strong urging by the three Republican Congressmen who currently represent parts of the new 35th District, Jerry Pettis, Charles Wiggins and John Rousselot. Veysey also has had extensive experience with the educational communities, and industrial and agricultural interests within the new district.

Veysey has served on educational projects at the Claremont Colleges, and Cal Poly at Pomona, as well as the Community Colleges and public schools in the 35th District.

Following is part of Veysey's statement of candidacy, which he released during press conferences in Upland, West Covina and Claremont.

"Today I am announcing my candidacy for reelection to the Congress of the United States. I will run for that high office from the newly created 35th Congressional District which includes parts of San Bernardino and Los Angeles Counties.

"The Supreme Court's Reapportionment Plan created this district. While I feel there were many other undesirable effects of that reapportionment, it is a good plan for this area.

"The new 35th district has been split in various ways in recent years among several Members of Congress -- none representing presently more than a third of the new Congressional District. Therefore, all have opted to run in adjacent districts which contain the larger part of their new constituencies. But the Pomona Valley is a natural area to draw Congressional district boundaries around. The population shares many common interests, economically and geographically, and many similar problems.

"My wife Janet and I, were both born and educated in Los Angeles County. We each went through public schools here and also graduated from college in this area--she from Scripps and I from Caltech. We have been life-time residents of Southern California."

County School Attendance Drops--Again

Student enrollment in San Bernardino County's public schools continued its downward trend this fall, it was recently reported by the office of the County Superintendent of Schools.

According to the Countywide survey, a total of 180,060 students were counted in kindergarten through grade 12th, representing 1.4 percent loss over last year's figures.

Nineteen school districts showed a student decrease in the elementary grades, pulling the County total down 2.4 percent.

Urban areas in larger school districts within the valley portion of the County appeared most greatly affected by the spotty decline. The largest school district in the County, San Bernardino City Unified, lost 1,319 students from kindergarten through grade eight.

The Ontario - Montclair elementary district suffered the second greatest loss, dropping 500 students.

Rialto Unified listed a minus 352 in the elementary grades, Redlands Unified lost 276, Fontana Unified dropped 246, and Colton Joint Unified listed a loss of 105. The highest loss in the desert areas was felt by Barstow Unified with a decline of 318 elementary students.

In contrast, 13 school districts showed enrollment gains at the elementary school level. Those showing the largest increases from kindergarten through grade eight were Alta Loma, Apple Valley, Hesperia and Rim of the World Unified. Enrollment figures on the secondary level (9-12) and in adult education remained stable with a slight increase of 0.4 percent.

Grover Clem assistant superintendent in charge of business for the County Schools Office, has urged all school administrators to compare the fall enrollment figures with estimates for the 1973-74 school year to anticipate budget adjustments.

"Now is the time to reserve funds to cover enrollment figures that were estimated at a higher level last August when budgets were adopted," Clem said.

Lewis Supports 'Aging' Allocation

San Bernardino County Assemblyman Jerry Lewis today voiced strong approval for the California Commission On Aging's allocation of $284,664 to San Bernardino County to fund the nutrition program for senior citizens and their further action of extending the life of the county's area agency on aging.

"Because of the Commission's actions today," Lewis said, "555 needy senior citizens in our county will be getting at least one hot meal a day, five days a week. To most of these elderly people, this literally means the difference between a proper diet and malnutrition."

As to the Commission's second action of extending the life of Plan Action For Senior Citizens which was due to expire in two weeks, Lewis stated:

"I think San Bernardino County has every right to expect priority treatment and status in receiving state and federal funds to serve its senior citizens. Our county ranks as the sixth highest area in the number of persons sixty years of age or older and 20 percent of these people are considered below poverty level."

P.A.S. INC.

Coping With Upland's 'Drugless' Problem

By E. SCOTT WOOD

The city of Upland may not officially admit it has a drug problem, but there is an organization in town that in the first month of its operation has made contact with and helped more than 35 drug abusers in the area.

P.A.S., Proyecto Accion Social Inc., has been in operation since Nov. 1 as an after-care center for drug abusers and according to its director, Ontario City Councilman Gustavo Ramos, has helped more than 12 people who have come in seeking a means to end their drug addiction and has assisted more than 25 persons with follow-up service such as finding work or helping with education problems.

P.A.S. has been incorporated for more than a year helping citizens of Upland in a variety of social service programs such as "Meals on Wheels" for the elderly and youth and family counseling. It turned its attention to drug abusers recently when it was recognized that Upland does indeed have a drug problem.

"We were open only a few weeks and more than a dozen people came in for help," said Ramos. "They found out about us through word of mouth, we didn't advertise or anything. What bothers me is what were they doing before we came here when there was no help available?"

P.A.S., while started by Mexican-American citizens in the community provides its service to all segments of the community. The drug after care activities are financed by the West End Drug Abuse Control Coordinating Council. WEDAC in turn has gotten most of its financial support from a $500,000 dollar grant from the National Mental Health Foundation.

"We have acted as an intake center for WEDAC," Ramos said. "Some of the people who have come to us for help have gone on to WEDAC programs to straighten themselves out." When asked what help is available to those persons who don't want to participate in WEDAC programs Ramos said, "We keep an open door to them. We sometimes act as a crisis center and give advice or whatever help we can if a person is facing a crisis in their life."

Ramos is administering P.A.S. like no other public service agency in the area, or perhaps in the country. He has experience in governmental agencies from working with the county welfare department. "The trouble with government agencies," Ramos said "is that they get all tied up in statistics and forget they are working with people. We're here to help people."

When asked what long-range plans P.A.S. had, Ramos indicated that there were none as yet. "We're going month to month, dealing with people as they come to us." P.A.S. is a social action group that deals with individuals as individuals. It is a small program that works.

Comet View Offered

A free group view of the comet Kohoutek will be offered by California State University, Fullerton Dec. 30 and Jan. 2-4. The special program, open to anyone who wants to look at the comet, is being cosponsored by the University's Office of Continuing Education and the Cal State physics department at the university observatory, located in front of the campus gymnasium.

The physics department, through Bob Gill, a graduate student serving as coordinator, has offered the use of its Celestron 14-inch telescope for the program. An 8-inch telescope and a Questar may also be available for the special viewings, which begin at sunset, weather permitting.

Those who wish may bring their own binoculars and telescopes.

Upland Student Qualifies For Alpha Society

Barbara A. Bergstedt of Upland is among 240 junior and senior students at Stephen F. Austin State University who have qualified for membership in the Alpha Chi national scholarship society.

Dr. J. E. Ericson, head of the political science department and faculty sponsor of the Texas Sigma chapter of Alpha Chi at SFA, said induction ceremonies will be held at a banquet scheduled Feb. 22 in the SFA University Center.

To qualify for membership in Alpha Chi, a student must be at least a junior and have compiled a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 on a 4.0 scale.

"Membership in Alpha Chi is the highest academic recognition that the university extends to its students," Dr. Ericson explained. "While departmental honor societies honor superior scholarship in one field of study, Alpha Chi honors overall achievement in scholarship."

Assisting Dr. Ericson in the sponsorship of the SFA chapter are Dr. Edwin W. Gaston Jr., professor of English; Dr. June Irwin, head of the women's division of health and physical education department; Dr. Leslie Thompson, associate professor of English; and Dr. Sibyl Wyatt, professor of English. Dr. Gaston also is national president of Alpha Chi.

$2.5 Million Bond Election Ok'd

The City Council at a special meeting last week voted to place a $2.5 million water conservation bond issue on the upcoming March 5 ballot. Councilmen Hal Bailin and Max Hawkins and Mayor Abner Halde- man were in favor of the March 5 date for the bond issue vote. Councilmen John McCarthy and George Gibson were in favor of the bond issue but wanted to wait until the June primary to place it on the ballot. City Manager Elwin "Pinky" Alder told the city council that there would be no increase in the city tax rate if the bond issue passed. Two reservoirs and improvements to the city water system would be paid for out of revenue from the water department. There will be an increase in the city water fees but the city has not estimated how much that increase will be, according to Alder. Because the bond issue will not raise the general tax rate, it can be passed by a simple majority rather than a two-thirds majority vote. If the bond issue passes March 5 groundbreaking on the two res- ervoirs will take place in the spring of 1975 and the project will take a year to complete. The city council met in the ad- journed session Thursday, Dec. 20 after Councilmen George Gib- son and Max Hawkins asked the council to consider placing the bond issue on the March 5 bal- lot. McCarthy, who along with Bail- in and Hawkins is up for reelection March 5 commented that the March 5 date for the bond issue "puts councilmen who are up for reelection in a rough position."

Alta Loma Little League Set Sign-Ups; Auxiliary Schedules Meeting, Jan. 8

Registration for the newly formed Alta Loma Little League will be held Wednesday, Jan. 9, between 7 and 10 p.m., and again Saturday, Jan. 12, between 1 and 4 p.m., at the Alta Loma Junior High School, announced La Vona Kwinn, publicist.

Veteran Major League players of the Citrus Little League, who live in Alta Loma, have the option of remaining with their present team or registering with the new league, she added. "These boys are assured a berth on a Major League team, if they choose to play in Alta Loma," she asserted.

"However, boys who have player only Minor A or Minor B ball in the Citrus League and who live in Alta Loma, must register and play in the Alta Loma League," stated Mrs. Kwinn.

All Alta Loma boys whose birthdays fall between Aug. 1, 1961 and July 31, 1966 are eligible to play. Registering boys must be accompanied by at least one parent or guardian and must show proof of age by way of a certified birth certificate. "A hospital record or baptismal record will not do," said Mrs. Kwinn.

Ex-Ram Griddler Takes Over In Arthritis Campaign

Les Richter, former All-Pro center and linebacker for the Los Angeles Rams, has been named 1974 campaign chairperson for the Inland Empire Branch of the Arthritis Foundation.

Making the announcement was Robert O. Hunter, advisory chairperson of the Arthritis Foundation's local branch.

The nine-year Rams veteran, who currently heads Riverside International Raceway, will direct San Bernardino County's charity drive, which culminates in February with a two-day television telethon.

Richter said there already are 3,800 volunteer marchers involved in the door-to-door campaign in this area, seeking donations to The Arthritis Foundation.

The new campaign head said he will be working directly with neighborhood campaign co-

Tryouts for the league have been scheduled for 12 noon Feb. 9, 16 and 23rd.

Player agent Wayne Spiker will have answers to any questions regarding eligibility as to age and league affiliations. He may be contacted by calling 987-3836.

In other Little League news, Mrs. Kwinn announced that she will hold an auxiliary meeting at her home Tuesday, Jan. 8 at 8 p.m. Her home is located at 5515 Jasper St., Alta Loma.

chairpersons Mrs. Brenda Huff, Upland, Mrs. Barbara Teague, Upland and Mrs. Joyce Clayton, Cucamonga.

There are an estimated 69,700 residents of San Bernardino County who suffer from one of the more than 100 forms of arthritis, said Richter, who resigned from professional football more than a decade ago to launch his career in auto racing management.

Funds generated through the door-to-door campaign and the upcoming Feb. 2-3 KTLA Channel 5 Arthritis Telethon are used for specialized research and operation of arthritis clinics at local hospitals, added Richter.

The Arthritis Foundation also sponsors visiting nurse programs and conducts educational public forums, said Richter.

The Good Sport 'Doc,' As In Holladay

By TERRY CONNER SPORTS EDITOR

Don "Doc" Holladay is a bull of a man. On a rugby field (or pitch), Doc is like a bull in a china shop. Every way he turns, someone comes crashing down.

It's not certain to me where Don got the nickname "Doc," but considering his ruthlessness on the pitch, he probably inherited the pseudonym from the notorious Doc Holladay of the West's gun fighting days.

Who knows? Maybe he's a direct descendent of the six-gun toting friend of Wyatt Earp.

Doc stands about 6-2, and must weigh close to 215, or judging from his slight paunch, closer to 225.

In rugby terms, Doc is a piggy. The unflattering word signifies that he plays in the front line, or scrum. This is where most of the big men on a rugby side play, but Doc is probably just a little bit better than most of the big men. He can sometimes be found filling in in the back line where all the speedsters are supposed to be. He's usually all over the field.

Off the pitch, Doc is as kind as he is not-so kind on the pitch. But this attribute is not uncommon to ruggers.

Rugby players seem to have a camaraderie that isn't found in other sports. Ruggers may be mean to each other during the violence of an 80-minute non-stop match, but off the pitch, all the players, of both teams, are buddies 'til the last pitcher of beer is drained.

When Doc isn't playing Rugby for the Fullerton Finlanders, of which he is Pomona Valley captain, he is a teacher and football coach at Alta Loma High School. He lives in Alta Loma with his wife and three children.

Doc is a walking, sometimes hobbling, example of what most ruggers are like. His youthful appearance is only surpassed by his youthful thinking of getting as much out of the game as possible.

Rugby isn't a sport (at least not in most parts of the world) that requires the participant to expend all of his efforts into obtaining excellence. Rugby players are also teachers, full time students, businessmen, doctors, and even sometimes writers. Rugby is a team game, that has no room for professional athletes. Well-seasoned football players are the hardest to transform into ruggers, it has been noted.

Ruggers play the English-born game because it is fun, not because they have to or it's their job.

Rugby players are an elite group of athletes. They enjoy the violence of contact during a contest, but at the end, they applaud their opponents.

Doc, at age 37, is still going strong at what is tabbed to be the world's third most strenuous sport.

A veteran of the rugby pitches is often a veteran of the taverns, as well. And that's where you'll find most of the ruggers after a match, even Doc, as he bulls his way to the fullest pitcher.

Buttercream Torte -- Dutch Style Only

The Dutch like their desserts and the chef gives special attention to this department. He favors his desserts with Vandermint, a delicious Dutch minted chocolate liqueur. One of the favorites is Vandermint Buttercream Torte.

VANDERMINT BUTTERCREAM TORTE

1/2 qt. milk
1/2 c. sugar
1/2 Tbsp. vanilla extract
1/2 c. Cornstarch
1/4 c. chocolate syrup
1/2 lb. sweet butter
1/2 c. Vandermint

1 round sponge layer (or 1 1/2) chocolate chips

Mix 1/2 cup cornstarch with 1/2 cup milk. Bring rest of milk, sugar and vanilla to boil. Add cornstarch-milk mixture and simmer for 2 minutes. Strain if necessary, and cool.

Whip butter until fluffy and slowly add the custard.

Reserve two cups buttercream. To the rest, add 1/4 cup chocolate syrup and 1/2 cup Vandermint and mix well.

Cut sponge cake into three layers. Spread about 1/2" of the chocolate-Vandermint buttercream between layers and cover top and sides. Decorate top of cake with plain buttercream and chocolate chips.

Makes one 9 x 3 torte.

Bread And Butter Revised

It has been said over and over again that bread is the staff of life. The natural question "Why?" is subject to debate.

One answer has to be the fact that breads fit into every meal pattern with every kind of food at every time of year all around the world. There are differences however in the food items used as bread spreads.

Picture the unsuspecting traveler. He feels confident when a loaf of bread is placed before him. After all, bread is bread. But very often the same traveler gets a bit confused by the various condiments placed beside the bread. He is apt to find a variety of soft, spreadable cheeses in the Scandinavian countries and France, marmalades galore in the British Isles, honeys and yogurt mixtures in Greece and Israel, Ghee in India and avocados in Mexico, just to name a few.

Avocados used as a bread spread seem quite logical. Spreadability is a natural quality of the fruit. Mashed, it has a thick, almost pate consistency and a velvet texture. The subtle, nutlike flavor has sufficient interest to glorify bread all by itself. As a matter of fact, that is how it is most often associated with bread in Mexico. They call it "butter of the poor."

Here in the melting pot of all foods and flavors, mashed California avocado has blanketed many a piece of toast. Expanding upon that idea, we can take a few compatible ingredients to make avocado goodness just that much better over bread.

The three avocado spreads made from the recipes below are not time consuming and make such a welcome change. Each one favors a particular kind of bread, either French, rye, whole wheat or corn meal. Mix and match if you wish to make your own creation. When storing the spreads in the refrigerator, cover with plastic wrap right on the surface of the food. That way, they can be enjoyed for several days.

These spreads, have some stiff competition. There's butter, margarine, peanut butter, cream cheese, jams and mayonnaise in the race for bread toppers. It follows that all runners ought to state their statistics. Mayonnaise's score is 110 calories, 24 milligrams cholesterol per tablespoon. Butter comes in at 100 calories, 36 milligrams cholesterol per tablespoon; with margarine following at 100 calories, 0 milligrams cholesterol per tablespoon. Peanut butter has 90 calories, 0 cholesterol per tablespoon. Cream cheese with 55 calories, 18 milligrams cholesterol per tablespoon overpowers the gamut of jams with the same 55 calories, but with 0 cholesterol per tablespoon. Last and certainly least, mashed avocado claims 19 calories, 0 cholesterol per tablespoon. The same fruit has a good batting average for nutrition with a total score of 11 vitamins and 7 vital minerals. Think about that the next time you bite into avocado on toast.

The "staff of life" deserves its century old reputation. And avocados deserve their reputation as one of the most versatile and well-qualified foods going.

INTERNATIONAL SPREAD

(Makes about 3/4 cup)
1 mashed California avocado
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
3 dashes hot sauce

Blend all ingredients. Serve as a spread over French bread. Lightly broil if desired. Serve with Italian spaghetti.

AVOCADO ON RYE

(Makes 1 cup)
1/4 cup creamed cottage cheese

1 mashed California avocado
In blender, whip cottage cheese until fairly smooth. (Leave some chunks for texture.)

Add avocado.
Serve over rye or whole wheat bread.

AVOCADO HONEY FOR CORN MEAL MUFFINS

(Makes about 3/4 cup)
1 mashed California avocado
1/2 cup honey

Blend ingredients together.
Chill for best flavor and spreading consistency.

BREAD STUFFS -- French, corn meal or rye, versatile avocado spreads flavor the world of bread stuffs.

Gardener's Checklist

1. This is the time to get bare-root plants. Roses, fruit trees, flowering trees and deciduous shade trees should be planted as soon as you can.
2. Check the camellias and azaleas in bloom now at your local nurseries and see whether they have the colors and flower forms you've been looking for.
3. If you want to keep your garden tools in top shape this winter, don't forget to oil them before storing away.
4. Cabbage, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts, beets, chard, onions and carrots may all be planted now.

What's New For The New Year

There are some stunning new plants being offered for 1974 by your local nurseryman. Let's take a look first at the All-America Rose Selections.

Bahia is an eye-catching orange tinged pink floribunda with lots of blooms borne profusely and constantly through the flowering season. An ideal landscape floribunda, Bon-Bon, is densely covered with dozens of delightful pink and white bicolor blooms, set in a wealth of bright green foliage. A richly fragrant rose fittingly named Perfume Delight is the only hybrid tea to win AARS honors for 1974. One bloom of Perfume Delight will fill the room with fragrance, while three plants in a garden will add a delightful perfume to a wide area. All three All-America roses are available in bare root now!

Among the 1974 All-America Selections, which members of the California Association of Nurserymen will be offering this year, is a spectacular new hybrid zinnia called Scarlet Ruffles. Its brilliant, deep scarlet fully-double blooms are produced in great quantity on long stems that are ideal for cutting. Then there's the zinnia, Peter Pan Orange that grows flame-orange flowers on dwarf plants—a combination in great demand by today's home gardeners. Zinnias are to be planted in late spring when temperatures warm up.

Cosmos is another popular annual growing well under a variety of conditions. The new Cosmos Diablo will add a striking effect to your flower borders. It has deep reddish-orange flowers and feathery foliage.

Celosia is one of the easiest and most glamorous flowers for home gardeners to grow. And among the 1974 All-America selections is Celosia Red Fox, with bright, shiny, carmine-red plumes and fresh, green foliage creating a beautiful contrast. Semi-dwarf in growth habit, it grows just 2 ft. high, with a spread of 2 ft., creating a dramatic effect simply planted in a straight line along the edge of the lawn.

One Happy--'All In The Family'--Azaleas

You can have colorful Azaleas in your garden for over half the year. By careful selection and proper planting, this happy family of flowering shrubs will be beautiful for you for a long period of time.

Indicative of the Azaleas' willingness to perform under California growing conditions is the fact that many of the beautiful Belgian Indica varieties show color as early as September or October in some areas. They reach full bloom before Christmas and then taper off into the New Year. As they begin to fade, other Belgian Indicas take over, to be joined in short order by the magnificent Rutherfordian hybrids, then the Kurume varieties, then the Southern Indicas. Before the list of evergreen varieties has faded out, the deciduous Mollis hybrids break their winter rest with a brilliant burst of color. By this time, it's early May, or will be when the last blooms fall.

Most Azaleas like shade or part shade, but the Southern Indicas stand a fair share of sun. These are widely used in Southern California and will surprise even some Azaleas buffs with their rugged character.

'TIS THE SEASON TO BE JOLLY

NOT DEAD!

THINK BEFORE YOU DRIVE AND DRINK

Nobody's putting down merriment. It's part of the holidays: happy hearts . . . high spirits . . . good cheer belong to the Christmas season. So do big festive parties. But drunken driving? That's something else. And there's nothing jolly about it!

Alcohol and driving don't mix . . . what makes you feel like the life of the party can make for death on the road. Even one drink can delay reactions . . . impair coordination . . . affect your judgment just enough to cause an accident. Why chance it?

Think before you drink. Consider all you have to lose. Christmas time is for family rejoicing. Don't let it turn into a tragedy.

Remember -- 1974 is the first year of the rest of your life. Please try to be here to enjoy it. Life is too precious to gamble with!

Ol' Will To Appear At Music Center

Tilt your head back a smidgeon, and look up to the sky. You likely can hear a lot of activity going on up there as a shrewd, gum-chewing, Indian cowboy slaps his chaps between salvos of high humored heehaws.

The commotion could easily be caused by the cowboy's observation of a literary wrestling match which has been going on for the past three weeks down in James Whitmore's Malibu house.

Whitmore and his stage producer, George Spota, are in the unhappy process of tearing out 10 minutes of running time from one of the modern theater's greatest pleasures, "Will Rogers' U.S.A.," to make room for other Rogers materials which may provoke an especial guffaw in these fast moving times.

Ol' Will was too prolific in the 1920s and 30s, and much too "ageless." The Paul Shyre adaptation is artfully held together, as everyone knows by now, by a series of devastating "one-liners" taken from the humorist's journalistic legacy and speeches. All of the material spoken by Whitmore is Rogers', alone, at the Music Center's Mark Taper Forum for four weeks. He opened Dec. 26.

Some of the "new" material already agreed upon: "Every newspaper in the United States prints what you say, even if you don't say anything. Look at the President. Every paper was full of what he didn't say. And, the Senate got mad. They are going to make him say something."

And: "There's another thing I do know. This investigation could be a great moneymaker... if they'd just tour it around, and make one-day stands in each town."

The President? Harding. The Investigation? Teapot Dome.

It's much too cavalier to dismiss the Rogers-Spota-Bryan B. Sterling (we'll get to him, later)-Shyre-Whitmore effort as "a lucky formula for the stage." It was no accident that "Will Rogers' U.S.A." has been crisscrossing the continent since 1970, then in 1971, and will, again, with the opening of a new national tour at the Music Center Dec. 26.

It all began in 1952 when Spota did research for a television series, "Gallery," featuring portraits of universal men and women whose words lived beyond their times. In the Gallery were Mark Twain, Mahatma Gandhi, Madame Tussaud, Thomas Jefferson, P. T. Barnum and Rogers. Although the series experienced static in the ether world, Spota rediscovered his notes in 1963 while researching comedy material for Jonathan Winters.

By the time Spota found Winters another property, the sage cowboy had gripped him anew, and Spota promptly began work on Will Rogers in earnest.

In 1967, Spota reports it was necessary to engage a full time researcher, Rogers buff Bryan B. Sterling. By 1969, a "completed key" of some 800 pages had been accumulated. It was cut to 150 pages as Spota engaged his director, Paul Shyre, who also adapted the material for the stage.

OL' WILL -- James Whitmore makes his third returned engagement to the Music Center's Mark Taper Forum for four weeks.

Cheese, Vegetable Chowder.. One-Course Meal

Take a sprightly Italian combo of zucchini, onions, tomatoes, garbanzo beans and companionable herbs. Bake an hour in butter and wine and you'll have a great soup almost ready to eat. Add a couple of protein rich cheeses -- grated Romano and California's very own Monterey Jack -- and some whipping cream to round out the flavors and the hearty dinner chowder will be ready to serve. With whole grain bread and butter you'll have a most satisfying meal.

Cheese soups may be new to you but don't let it deter you from making this one. The method of preparation is so simple even a beginning cook will have good luck. Ordinarily we think of homemade Italian soups as taking hours to cook and develop the flavors. Not so with this quickie. It's a colorful combination of both fresh and canned vegetables. Grated Monterey Jack cheese and Romano cheese go in at the end just long enough to melt. Put in the whipping cream then too. You may think this unusual but you will be pleased with the creaminess it gives the good tasting chowder. This soup is designed to be cooked and eaten. If your family is small divide the recipe in half.

Your favorite soup or sandwich meal can always be enhanced nutritionally and tastefully by the addition of a flavorful fresh dairy product. Try a dollop of dairy sour cream to top off tomato soup. And no matter what your favorite sandwich is chances are it will taste better than ever with a glass of ice cold milk.

ITALIAN OVEN CHEESE CHOWDER
1/2 pound zucchini, sliced
2 onions, sliced
1 (15 1/2-ounce) can garbanzo beans
1 (1-pound) can diced tomatoes
1/4 cup butter
1 1/2 cups dry white wine

2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons minced garlic
1 teaspoon basil
1 bay leaf
1 cup grated Monterey Jack cheese
1 cup grated Romano cheese
1 cup whipping cream
Combine all ingredients except cheeses and cream in 3-quart baking dish. Cover. Bake in 400 degree oven 1 hour, stirring once halfway through. Stir in cheeses then stir in cream. Bake 10 minutes longer.
Makes 3 quarts (6 dinner size servings).

TO SAVE ENERGY

MWD Shuts Down Pumps

The Metropolitan Water District has announced that because of the energy crisis it has shut down two of eight pumps at plants on its Colorado River Aqueduct to save 25 percent in power consumption on the system.

On the Colorado River Aqueduct, the District is reducing by 66 percent its power purchases from the Southern California Edison Company while maintaining its full use of its share of the Hoover Dam and the Parker Dam hydroelectric power.

To help compensate for the reduced supply of imported water resulting from its energy conservation program, the District also curtailed its wintertime groundwater replenishment program for various of its member agencies in Los Angeles and Orange counties and adopted a more gradual filling schedule for its reservoirs.

Under the groundwater replenishment program, water not needed for other purposes is spread along river beds and in other areas to replace water pumped from wells.

In a letter informing its member agencies of the action, Frank M. Clinton, District general manager, said the conservation measures would immediately cut power consumption on the aqueduct by 1,800,000 kilowatt-hours per day--enough to meet all the needs of a city with a population of 100,000. When running at full eight-pump flow of one billion gallons a day, the aqueduct uses about 7,500,000 kilowatt-hours each day.

Both the pumping reduction and the cut back in replenishment deliveries follows earlier action by the District Board of Directors urging its member agencies which have not already done so to adopt immediate water conservation programs.

"If the ultimate water users, particularly those using substantial quantities of water for agricultural purposes, will recognize the importance of conserving water and avoiding waste there should be adequate supplies available to meet all public needs," Clinton said.

Latest projections of water demand and District reservoir storage showed gradual filling could be accomplished for summer needs, compared with rapid filling that was taking place with full aqueduct flow.

UC Publishes Book On Fires

Californians must share their living space with more than 10 million acres of tough and often tinder-dry brush that is designed by nature to go up in flames every so often. In San Bernardino County the potential fire hazard from large expanses of mature brushland close to urban areas is a serious problem. A new publication by the University of California entitled "California's Brushlands -- Fuel, Fire and People" takes a look at the problem of brushlands and brushland wildfires from the citizen's viewpoint.

If left to nature, brush burns every 15 to 20 years and at least every 30 to 40 years. Most of the chaparral and some of the smaller perennial and annual plants in brushland depend on fire for regeneration. After a brushland fire, smaller plants flourish and provide food for booming populations of wildlife. But in a few years larger shrubs take over. For a decade or so the brush grows vigorously, reaching maximum density between 15 and 20 years after a fire. Dead twigs and branches accumulate. In another few years large and woody plants approaching old age dominate the site. There is little new growth and many of the lower branches are dead or dying. The ground is covered with litter and wildlife is scarce. The stage is set for fire to start the natural cycle again.

In this area the problem of wildfires is growing worse because more and more Californians are living in fire-prone areas and more and more natural fuel is piling up in brushlands that haven't burned for decades.

This 22-page booklet discusses the types and extent of brushlands in California; the advantages and disadvantages of prescribed burning; other approaches to reducing the danger of brushland wildfires; and the outlook for large-scale brushland management in California.

Copies of this booklet can be obtained by writing or visiting the Agricultural Extension Service office, 566 Lugo Ave., San Bernardino, 92415, or by calling 383-2768.

Snow Winners Announced

Winners in this year's Palm Springs Aerial Tramway Snow Guessing contest were announced by tramway general manager O.L. (Mac) McKenney.

The champion snow guessers are:

Mrs. Frieda Niedrist of Palm Springs, Cecil Balderino of Torrance, Mrs. Dorothy L. Owens of Santa Monica, Frances Brady of Yucca Valley; Mrs. Kenneth F. Bright of Desert Hot Springs; Mrs. Sally Green of Yucca Valley, W. Chartier of Banning, Mrs. Carlee Little of San Bernardino, Mrs. W. Fields of Indio and J. W. Randall of Laguna Hills.

Each winner receives two round trip tram fares and two sumptuous dinners at the tramway's Alpine Restaurant.

The winning contestants were among 16 entries who chose Nov. 18 as the date when an inch or more of snow would fall at the tram's 8,516-foot high mountain station. However, their entries bore the earliest postmarks, making them the winners.

A total of 463 entries from throughout Southern California have been received in this year's contest to date.

Snow began falling at the mountain station at about 6 a.m. Nov. 18. Snowfall continued intermittently throughout Sunday, with the season's first storm bringing approximately four inches of snow to the mountain station and about five inches at Long Valley, according to state park rangers.

During the night the dense clouds which shrouded Mt. San Jacinto all day Sunday were dissipated, and Monday dawned crisp and clear.

In 1972, Mt. San Jacinto was blanketed with its first snow on Oct. 16, when about two feet of snow fell at Long Valley.

The public will be able to enjoy the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway's famous Ride-'N-Dine Special today, tramway general manager O. L. (Mac) McKenney announced today.

The money-saving dining special is usually offered only from 5 p.m. on, McKenney explained. This season, however, the special will be available from the time the tram opens at 10 a.m., until the last car descends the mountain at 9 p.m.

The holiday menu will consist of a choice of either turkey, roast prime rib of beef, Virginia baked ham, or the chef's special. Also included is the latest addition to the special: a carafe of red or white wine.

"We believe it will be a real thrill for our holiday visitors to enjoy a gourmet dinner at the 8,516-foot high mountain station," McKenney said. "I know of no other visitor attraction in Southern California which offers such spectacular panoramas of the desert as well as a sumptuous holiday dinner, all for the very reasonable price of $6.95."

McKenney added that reservations are not necessary for the holiday Ride-'N-Dine Special.

Miss Pomona Valley Pageant Begins Here

"The search for contestants for the crown of Miss Pomona Valley and the right to represent the Valley in the Miss California - Miss America competitions is in full gear," stated Shel Wellins, Executive Director of the Miss Pomona Valley Pageant.

The goal for this year's pageant includes a $500 college scholarship for the winner and total scholarship awards in excess of $1,500 for all contestants.

The Miss America program, which the Miss Pomona Valley Pageant is a local preliminary, is the largest women's scholarship foundation in the world giving away in excess of $850,000 a year to its entries.

In order to be eligible to compete for the crown of Miss Pomona Valley, a young woman must be between the ages of 18 and 28, a resident of 1974, and have a minimum of 15 miles between her home and the Pomona City.

Contestants will compete in an interview, even- ing gown, swimsuit and talent competitions on each 8 at Garrison Water at the Claremont Colleges. The winner will go on for a week's competition in Santa Cruz for the title of Miss California and the right to represent the state in the Miss America Pageant.

A deadline of Jan. 13 has been set for all entries. Anyone wishing an application or further information about the pageant may write to: Miss Pomona Valley Pageant Association, 1457 Maxwell Lane, Upland, California, or call (714) 985-1795.
